

Ambassadors to Romania

A Short-Term and Long-Term Plan

MAP OF ROMANIA

Fellow Brethren and Sisters,

Our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ gave the wide commission for His servants to go into all the world and reconcile all its inhabitants to Himself. As long as the Church continues to exist on this Earth, it is the whole duty of its members to evangelize and reach the lost. For this is the command of the Lord.

The churches of Christ in the United States have long prioritized mission work domestic and abroad. Nonetheless, the European field has been neglected and is in dire need of more workers. And the workers are in dire need of more financial, emotional, and spiritual support.

Thus, the purpose of this booklet is to raise awareness for future mission work in Romania - a country situated in Eastern Europe. The purpose, aims, goals, and plan (both short-term and long-term) are outlined in this booklet.

The reader(s) of this booklet are encouraged to be mindful and prayerful of the contents within. If this is a work that sparks interest in the heart of the reader(s), then he or she is encouraged to locate the contact information on the second to last page.

Yours truly
- Joshua C. Dykes

“We thank God always for all of you as we mention you constantly in our prayers, because we recall in the presence of our God and Father your work in the faith and labor of love and endurance of hope in our Lord Jesus Christ.”

- Paul (as quoted in 1 Thessalonians 1:2-3; NET)

AIM and MISSION STATEMENT

The MISSION STATEMENT is as follows:

“To fulfill the commission of Christ by teaching others the Gospel by preaching and living out the Word of God. To give as Christ gave and to live as Christ lived. To make disciples that make disciples that make disciples. And to bring honor and glory to the Lord.”

The AIM of this particular work is as follows:

“To teach the Gospel in Iași, Romania and baptize individuals into the body of Christ; in doing so, reconciling their souls to Christ so that He may be glorified.”

WHERE

The task of determining the location of mission work is not an easy one. There are over 195 countries in the world according to the United Nations. Within these countries, there are many villages, towns, cities, and regions with varying cultures and ethnic groups. However, after much thought, prayer, and careful consideration... I have chosen the country of Romania to be the place of my future work.

Why Romania?

There are many practical reasons for choosing Romania as a mission field. Some of these reasons are as follows:

- Only 30 years removed from a communist regime, Romania is open to free thought.
- There are established congregations in Romania, all in need of further support and leadership.
- The emigration crisis in Romania (and all of Eastern Europe) has weakened the Church.
- A work visa should be easy to secure due to the emigration crisis.
- A short-term mission trip (two weeks) in the Summer of 2019 in Oradea, Romania.

Recent Romanian History.

In the 1940's, following World War II, Romania fell under Soviet influence and communist control. A long and brutal dictatorship characterized by purges, strong control over religion and thought, and egocentric propaganda ensued.

In 1989, the dictatorship was overthrown and a more democratic government was gradually put into place. Since 1989, Romania has been more open to free thought and exercise of religion.

Difficulties of Conducting Work in Romania.

As with any mission field, there are multiple difficulties that missionaries could run into. In regards to Romania, some of these difficulties include (but are not limited too):

- Culture strongly influenced by Romanian Orthodox Church.
- Ethnic mistreatment amongst Romanians, Roma, and Hungarian people groups.
- A rise in secular thought and reason following the overthrow of the communist regime.
- Mass-Emigration.
- Securing funds and having a supporting congregation that understands the difficulties of European work.

Strategies to overcoming these difficulties will be covered in later sections.

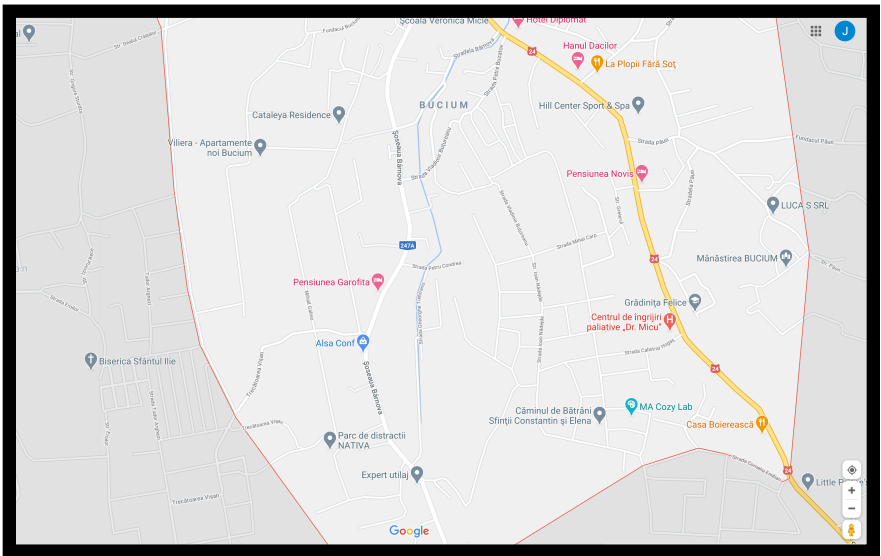

Where in Romania?

As with any country, there are many regions and subcultures within Romania. The region of Romania that needs the most work and workers is Moldova. Moldova sits just west of the country of Moldova, and its principal city is Iași. Iași is the second largest city in Romania with a population over 500,000 in its metro area. The city is home to several universities and is considered to be the cultural capital of Romania. In Iași, there is a congregation that still exists. However, the number of members regularly attending services has drastically decreased due to a lack of encouragement and emigration to other European countries. The current numbers (at the time of writing) is three.

The goal would not be to plant a new congregation, but to encourage and help grow an already existing congregation. Most of the members attending are from a single neighborhood / subdivision of Iași called Bucium (see maps below and next page). The hope is to make the meeting place in this subdivision.

The weather in Iași, Romania is very similar to the weather in Flint, Michigan. Summers have an average temperature of 70° F, and winters are on average 30° F.

ACCESS AND MEMBERS

GAINING ACCESS

One of the most difficult parts of planning is determining how to gain access to Iași, Romania. Given the emigration crisis, it should not be overly difficult to gain a work visa for Romania. The reason for emigration is NOT a shortage of jobs, but rather higher paying ones in other European countries. As a result, many places around Romania are hiring or are open to new businesses.

If a work visa cannot be obtained, then another visa will be obtained on the grounds of teaching English to foreigners.

TEAM MEMBERS

The hope is to have 4-6 team members from the United States of America. The preference is for couples to be involved in the work, but it is not a requirement.

All team members are required to have taken at least one missions class in college, or to have attended a lectureship in which Missions was the focus (eligible lectureships include the Global Missions Conference, AIM, Freed-Hardeman Lectureships, Faulkner Lectureships, or another conference approved by other team members).

A questionnaire will be given to all team members to ensure that all individuals are doctrinally sound and fit for foreign mission work. All team members will also be required to secure a sponsoring congregation and to make contributions to the overall work fund once in Romania.

Approximately one year before leaving the United States for Romania, all team members will be required to sign a contract binding all the members to work together for three years. If members of the team decide to continue with the work, then another contract will be implemented while on furlough.

All alleged team members will take at least one survey trip before signing the contract and moving to Romania. The contract will contain all the rules for conducting the work as well as the aim and mission statement.

In order to be considered for membership, the last page must be signed as proof that the booklet was read in its entirety.

Gaining Support

Each member or couple will be responsible for finding congregations to support them. However, if members or couples are having trouble finding support, then they are encouraged to ask other members or couples to help establish connections. It never hurts to ask.

In addition, every individual (regardless of whether they are a couple or not) will be required to make a working budget for Romania and the returning furlough.
